"The Father Knows Our Hearts"

And the Father who knows all hearts knows what the Spirit is saying, for the Spirit pleads for us believers in harmony with God's own will. — Romans 8:27 NLT

After the incredible promise of the previous verse and the Spirit's intercession for us (Romans 8:26 ESV), Paul adds promise upon promise. He tells us that the Spirit of the one true and living God pleads for us "with groanings too deep for words." He then adds that the Spirit pleads for us in harmony with the Father's will. Like being unable to explain how Jesus was both fully God and fully human when he walked this earth, I do not know how to fully explain the beauty and wonder of this truth about the Spirit's intercession for us. The Father knows our hearts. The Spirit pleads for us. The Spirit's pleadings and intercession are done in harmony with the will of God. My human brain can't capture all that these truths mean. However, I take comfort in knowing that God loves us in such high and holy ways and yet lives within us in a holy nearness that defies explanation. Sometimes, I believe, we are meant to be lost in the wonder of such grace and not try to dissect it. This grace is to be claimed at all times, including when our hearts are breaking, our minds are confused, and our lives are hard. The Comforter is near. He knows and pleads our deepest longings and aligns them to the will of a loving and knowing Father.

Buried Treasures

Have you ever thought about going on a treasure hunt what tools would be required? What would it cost, how far to go, and what treasure would be desired?

As a child I went down to Mt. Ida To dig for crystals in the clay. I had a bucket and a shovel, to collect my treasure for the day.

My mother-n-law Mary, liked to search for ginseng as she hiked. I don't think she needed many tools just some woods and a keen sense of sight.

My sister, when she was little, loved digging in the dirt. Putting worms in her pockets Her treasures in her shirt.

One last person comes to mind, Elizabeth Robbins And her rocks divine.

Lots of rocks She has taken for herself. Now they are displayed at home on our shelf.

There is one last treasure I would like to discuss. It is valuable, and useful and will never ever rust.

I discovered this treasure While digging in my Bible, that my heart was dirty And sin was libel.

So, I took the Bible And I started to see, no rock, or herb, could rescue me.

Just right there His words came clear. Your buried treasures are found right here!

The more you dig The more you will find. To save your life and peace of mind. By: Bobbi Robbins

A Big Thank You

To Yolanda Greenway for the message you brought us. What an inspiration you are to us!

To all the ladies who participated in the program, decorated, brought food, and helped clean up. Also, to the men and the youth group who set up and took down the tables and chairs. Couldn't have done it without you all!!!
