The Three Little Pigs, Revisited

The story of the three little pigs is timeless. Three pigs were sent on their way to make a home for themselves. Two pigs didn’t consider the dangers that might come from building their homes of flimsy material (straw and sticks), but the third, the wise pig, built his house with bricks. When the big bad wolf came to destroy their homes (by huffing, puffing, and blowing their house down), only the pig with the house of bricks withstood the wolf’s attack.

Proverbs 14:11 reminds me of the story of the three pigs. It says “The house of the wicked will be overthrown, but the tent of the upright will flourish.” In this parable it’s not the building materials that matter (A house versus a tent), but that the upright will flourish, even if they live in a tent. So, to take a page from the three pigs, the way you live your life determines the quality of your house. If you are upright and do God’s will, no matter how much Satan huffs and puffs, your house will remain. If you are wicked, no matter how wealthy or comfortable you are, your house will fall.

Consider that the foundation of our lives must be in Christ if we are to stand. It's the only way to walk uprightly and the only way to stand against the evil one when he comes, and he will come. I for one pray that my house remains secure, because I don't want my life to be in shambles because I built my house on lesser things. Choose to be righteous, faithful to God, and immersed in Christ. Let those investments be your greatest passion in life. Don't let the world fool you into cutting back on that which is most important. Instead, build your house on what will stand firm until the end.
