*“And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to which also you were called in one body; and be thankful.” Colossians 3:15

Peace is one of the sweetest words in our language. Peace means freedom from disturbance, quietness of mind, calmness and living in harmony and accord. We seek peace with God (Gal. 1:34, Phil. 4:9), peace among ourselves (2 Cor. 13:11, 1 Thess. 5:12-13) and as much as possible, peace with all men (Heb. 12:14, Rom. 12:18). Peace with all men will come only when we love others in the same way we love ourselves (Rom. 13:9, Matt. 5:43-44, Matt. 7:12). Peace with each other comes only by our loving each other with a pure heart fervently (1 Peter 1:22; John 13:35, 1 John 4:20). Peace with God will be ours only when we live in harmony and accord with his will (2 John 9, 2 Thess. 1:7-9, Matt. 7:21-23).

Living in this old sinful world with all of its strife and unrest, would indeed be most miserable without the peace of God ruling in our hearts. Just knowing that we are safe in the arms of Jesus as we struggle with pain, heartache and sorrows, brings to us a calmness and a peace that does pass all understanding. I love the words of Philippians 4:6-7: “Be careful for nothing; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus." I am convinced beyond a shade of a shadow of doubt, that when we commit our entire being, our lives, our souls, all that we are and have into the hands of God there will be a calmness, a quietness that will engulf us. Nothing will separate us from the love of God, as we patiently wait for that day when we will fly away to the land where joys shall never end (Rom. 8:35-39, 2 Tim. 1:12).

When we are at peace with all men, peace with each other and peace with God we can truly say, "It is well with my soul." Without that peace that does pass all understanding reigning with us, there will be no hope to anchor our souls and our lives will be filled with uncertainty and misery.

Don't worry about anything, but pray about everything. Tell God what you need, and thank Him for all He has done. – Phil. 4:6 (NLT)

When Jesus spoke again to the people, he said, "I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness, but will have the light of life." — John 8:12

Are you walking in light or darkness? Can you clearly see your path, or do you find yourself stumbling along an uncertain path? Jesus wants us to boldly follow him. The way may not always be easy, but the destination is assured, and your way can be certain. Most of all, you won't ever have to have a night light — you're assured that even in the deepest darkness, you will have his light, the only light that gives life.
