"No Condemnation!"

So now there is no condemnation for those who belong to Christ Jesus. And because you belong to him, the power of the life-giving Spirit has freed you from the power of sin that leads to death. — Romans 8:1-2 NLT

This phrase is such a great description of our identity — "those who belong to Christ Jesus." This identity ensures that God stamps his mark of authenticity on our hearts while Jesus sends the empowering Comforter and Advocate, the Holy Spirit, to be with us. The Spirit's presence brings us many blessings — like spiritual gifts, spiritual conviction, insight into God's truth, direction for our difficult journeys, along with many other blessings. Paul, in Romans 8, emphasized another great blessing from the Holy Spirit: the gift of power. The Holy Spirit brings us power over sin, power over death, power over the struggles of our sinful nature, and power through prayer. It is no wonder "there is no condemnation for those who belong to Christ Jesus": We have the presence of God himself within us, empowering us, and transforming us.

CONCERN FOR BRETHREN

Acts 20: 1-6

We have seen, through Paul's example of taking up the collection, the need to be concerned about our brethren. John wrote, "But whoever has the world's goods, and sees his brother in need and closes his heart against him, how does the love of God abide in him?" (1 John 3:17). The phrase "in need" includes physical needs like those of the poor Jerusalem saints, but there are also emotional needs and, most importantly, spiritual needs.

The following five recommendations will be helpful in showing our concern for brethren:

1. Be sensitive; be aware when needs exist.
2. Keep your heart tender when needs exist. It is easy to become hardened. (Some say, "It's their own fault they have these problems.")
3. Make concrete, specific plans on how you can help.
4. Do not be surprised if opposition comes. Do not even be surprised if it come from within your own heart.
5. Carry out the plans you make. Remember: If we just say, "Be warmed and be filled," our words mean nothing (James 2:16).

We cannot read 2 Corinthians without being impressed with the intensity of Paul's concern for his brethren. His soul found "no rest" (Acts 2:13; 7:5); he was filled with "fears" (Acts 7:5); he was "downcast" (Acts 7:6 NIV). We, too, should be consumed with a profound concern for our brethren – when they are in want physically, as Paul was moved regarding Christians in Jerusalem, and when they are lacking spiritually, as Paul was affected by the shortcomings of Corinth. Paul's words exhort us all:

There [should] be no division in the body, but...the members [should] have the same care for one another. And if one member suffers, all the members suffer with it; if one member is honored, all the members rejoice with it. Now you are Christ's body, and individually members of it (1 Corinthians 12:25-27).

We believe that Paul's primary purpose in taking up the collection was to help relationships in the church. If we dedicate ourselves to helping others, we will probably make the greatest contribution possible to peace and harmony in the Lord's body.
