Who Controls You

Those who are dominated by the sinful nature think about sinful things, but those who are controlled by the Holy Spirit think about things that please the Spirit. – Romans 8:5 NLT

We don’t like to be controlled. However, we will be controlled either by our sinful nature or by the Spirit of God. There are no middle options (Ephesians 2:1-3; Romans 6). While politically incorrect, deep in the core of our souls we know it’s true. The things that Satan entices us to think of as freedom invariably end up damaging us, our relationships, and our future. They enslave us to addictive processes, systems and habits. We are sucked into the vortex of sin’s power; Our thoughts are increasingly controlled by sin’s enslaving lifestyle. The Spirit, however, frees us from this bondage. The Spirit gives us the power to live with freedom, enjoying a life full of His fruit – love, joy, peace, forbearance, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control (Galatians 5:22-23). And our role? First, we must choose to actively seek the Spirit’s influence over our will. Second, we must commit to responding to His lead in what we think and do (Galatians 5:25). When we look at our lives, do we see our thoughts and actions dominated by the sinful nature or by the Spirit? If the sinful nature is dominating us, it’s time to go back and focus on our role of seeking the spirit and responding to His lead!

Godly Sorrow

For godly sorrow produces repentance leading to salvation, not to be regretted; but the sorrow of the world produces death.

2 Corinthians 7:10

In this verse, Paul lists two different types of sorrow for sins we have committed: godly and worldly. In my jail ministry I have visited numerous inmates who have “worldly sorrow” and regret the consequences of what they did that landed them in jail. This is “worldly sorrow” that leads to spiritual death.

In contrast, a few have “godly” sorrow that moves them to true repentance. They turn from their sin and turn to Jesus, trusting His blood to wash their sins away and give them His new eternal life of the Spirit.

Even those of us who are “in Christ” sometimes fail to have true godly sorrow for the sins we occasionally commit. Godly sorrow should move Christians to repent of their sins and confess them to God, that He might cleanse us of all unrighteousness (1 John 1:9). If our pride prevents us from humbling ourselves and confessing our sins, any regret that we have for our sins is worldly sorrow which fails to trust Christ Jesus and His word of truth.

Being confronted with one’s sin can be painful. However, it can be a very powerful and productive experience if it leads to godly sorrow, repentance and spiritual growth. Christians must be receptive to godly confrontation and be willing to alter their behavior that they might grow and mature in their personal relationship with Christ Jesus our Lord.
